

Explanations for Everything: The Role of Explanations in Judgments and Decisions

Dr. Reid Hastie

Many judgments are based on the explanations people create when they comprehend a situation. This talk will survey research on some experimental and everyday judgments such as predicting what's next in a sequence of related events and inductive projection from one instance to other members of a category.